DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-21 were presented for examination and are rejected.

Response to Arguments

- 1. Applicant's arguments filed 6/16/2005 have been fully considered but they are deemed not persuasive.
- 2. In the remarks, applicant argued in substance that:
- (A) Prior art of Shiino does not teach the pilot code being sent as a packet, but as a reference data for a packet. In the claimed invention the reference data packet is coded and transmitted separately.

As to point (A), in response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., the reference packet being kept separate from the user data) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

(B) Prior art of Shiino does not teach a reference data packet repeatedly transmitted for the duration of the connection.

As to point (B), Shiino teaches a packet containing pilot data and reference data at the beginning of the data frame (Shiino, column 3, lines 5-13.) This information is sent repeatedly throughout the duration of the connection, an example of which occurs when transmission speed is changed (Shiino, column 5, lines 17-41.)

(C) Prior art of Shiino teaches a packet containing a pilot code, while the claimed invention teaches a packet coded with a pilot code.

As to point (C), Shiino's packets are coded (Shiino, column 3, lines 35-41.)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The rejections under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as applied to claims 1-21 are unchanged and are recited in a previous FINAL office action mailed 3/16/2005.
